HOMETOWN STOP ON CONSTITUENCY TOUR was an emotional evening for MP Deborah Grey, who says she will always consider the community as her home, no matter where her new constituency may be. An announcement is forthcoming this week.

Wherever Grey runs, "This will always be home"

The economy, the fate of social programs and national unity took a back seat to the big question, "Is it true you aren't running here?" as Member of Parliament Deborah Grey faced her hometown constituents in Heinsburg Saturday night as part of her fall constituency tour.

The small crowd was unanimous in their wishes that Grey would remain as their representative in Ottawa, but she had no hope to offer them. With the realignment of federal ridings, Beaver River has been divided and becomes part of both the new Lakeland riding and the enlarged Elk Island riding. The current Vegreville-Lloydminster MP, Leon Benoit, will seek the Reform nomination in the huge new riding.

"It's so difficult to know what to do. The Reform party needs a high profile MP to go somewhere to knock off a Liberal," Grey said. "But this is home and where my heart is. It's very painful, very difficult to decide... but this will always be home."

An announcement by Reform leader Preston Manning regarding where Grey will run is scheduled for Wednesday. The Heinsburg voters hope that new riding will not be too far away.

The news from Ottawa was no more optimistic.

Grey has little hope for the country's economic recovery while the deficit keeps adding up to the tune of $60 to $80 million per day. "We're only spending $28 billion more a year than we bring in. There has to be a better way. My suggestion is to cut spending, and that will lower taxes and allow for job creation." Currently the largest single item of spending is interest to service the debt, Grey said. She likened balancing the budget to dieting: "You can't start losing weight until you stop gaining weight."

Social programs, far from "being slashed by those terrible Reformers," would be instead a priority item, Grey said. "We have targeted $10 billion to pay down the debt, $4 billion back to health care and education, and $12 to $14 billion to tax relief."

Remove snow in 48 hours or face fines

Owners or occupants of premises adjoining sidewalks in Elk Point will now have to remove snow from those walks within 48 hours after a snowfall or face a $50 fine for non-compliance. Council decided at the November 12 meeting of Council that a crackdown enforcing Bylaw 476/87 is necessary for pedestrian safety in the community.

A large portion of last Monday's meeting was devoted to meeting with Russ Hebblethwaite, who is developing a wash bay for large trucks and oilfield equipment in his newly expanded operation. He brought with him a number of brochures and statistics regarding the water filtering system he plans to install, which has been shown to meet stringent guidelines regarding hydrocarbon discharge.

"I'm trying to build a facility this community needs, with environment at the forefront," Hebblethwaite told Council. At the moment, one of the oil companies will take all the wash water the facility can produce, but Hebblethwaite is looking toward the future, when that might not be the case. "I want to have an option if I can't send it to the oil patch," Hebblethwaite told Council that the filter he has in mind can also be retrofitted to existing facilities if other companies who wash oilfield equipment are interested in installing such a unit.

Hebblethwaite also sought to alleviate Council's concerns regarding the drip tanks he plans to install in conjunction with his outdoor pipe racks. The pipe is to be washed in his facility rather than out in the oil patch because of problems with aging ecology pits which need repair before pipes can be washed there. The drip tanks in question would only be in place to keep heavy oil off the ground under the pipe racks in the unlikely event that there were drips.

Mayor Ed Buck was concerned with the monitoring of the outflow from water filter, if such a unit were put into use.

Hebblethwaite suggested that the Town could trust his company's employees to take the samples and keep records, if the Town was unable to have their own staff do so.

Later discussion showed that the Town will have to be prepared to do the monitoring for Hebblethwaite's and other facilities, but will have to recoup the costs of the testing. Also, the Town will have to set environmental standards which will apply to all businesses. Any business not operating within the guidelines would be shut down immediately.

Bill Schuhmacher was appointed as Deputy Mayor during the meeting.

One correction was noted from Council's Organizational Meeting. Councillor Ron Smith is the representative to the M. D. of St. Paul Seniors Foundation.

The Town of Elk Point will not be putting green flashing lights on their emergency vehicles, as had been suggested by

Extravaganza tree auction will benefit clubs

Something new has been added to Elk Point's Christmas Extravaganza this year. Businesses have been invited to purchase a Christmas tree or wreath which a club or organization could adopt and decorate prior to the Extravaganza. The trees will be sold by silent auction, with bids taken from December 6 to 13, and the proceeds from each tree going to the club which decorated it. Clubs will be encouraged to make their own decorations, so each tree will be unique and different. Businesses and clubs wishing to participate should call Gail Kozicky at 724-4097 to register.

Plans for the Extravaganza are coming along nicely. A skating rink will be prepared, arrangements have been made for street closure and the bonfire, Santa has been invited to be on hand, and businesses are being canvassed for donations toward the major prizes of $300, $200 and $100 in Elk Point Bucks, which shoppers will enter when they make a purchase at participating stores that evening.

The younger set will have an opportunity to win prizes too. A coloring contest, with three age groups, five and under, six to eight, and nine to twelve, will give them the opportunity to decorate the stores with their artwork while entering for three prizes in each age group. Entries will be available soon at Elk Point Elementary School, Florence's Country Crafts, Stedmans and the Elk Point Review.

No Stopping signs will go back up

Concerns expressed by two Highway 41 businesses regarding vehicles parking on the highway were brought before Council last week, and resulted in a decision to put the "No Stopping on the highway" signs back up.

The signs were removed last year to allow vehicles passing through town to make brief stops at local businesses along the highway.

Problems noted with the stopped vehicles include over-parking of driveways and difficulty for other vehicles entering the highway to see around the parked vehicles, especially during the winter when cold turns the exhaust vapor into fog.

Problems with vehicles speeding through town on the highway were also noted, and will be taken to the RCMP.

Another French exchange

By Tanya Pankiw and Carlen Mutch

F. G. Miller High School

Well, it's happening again. A group of 20 French students from F. G. Miller Jr./Sr. High School is planning to go on a cultural exchange to Quebec. This group of present Grade 8 and 9 students will be going during the 1997-98 school year.

During this exchange, while representing our little community of Elk Point and its culture, we will be experiencing French culture and language. Also, a group of students from Quebec will be coming to Elk Point to further learn and experience our culture. To do this, though, we need support from our community. Each student's cost is about $600. Even though the government funds about one third of this, we still need more support.

We will be conducting many fundraisers in the next while and are starting immediately. If you are interested in having us shovel snow, please contact Tanya Pankiw at 724-2250 or Joanne deMoissac at 724-2470. On November 23 there is a craft sale at the F. G. Miller gym from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. We will be having a table to sell baked goods and/or crafts. If you would like more information on this, you can contact Jena Bassett at 724-3224.

Companies, you can help us too. If you are willing to collect bottles for us or if you are having a Christmas party and need people to babysit or do cleanup, remember that we're here. We are also interested in having a bingo donated to us. If you are interested in any of these or have any questions or comments, please contact Carlen Mutch at 724-4026. At a later time we will also be conducting various different fundraisers.

Merci pour votre aide. (Thank you for your support... for those of you who didn't go on an exchange when you were in school.)

"This will always be home" — Grey

Grey said it is "easy to criticize Ralph Klein," regarding health care cuts, "but if you back up to when health care was brought in, the federal government was committed to paying 50 percent. They now pay 23 percent and the provinces are trying desperately to come up with the rest." She feels that the federal government could do more for the provinces in this regard, "but remember, something else has to go."

In the year since the Quebec referendum, "the only national unity plan is Sheila Copps giving away Canadian flags," Grey said. She felt "the referendum wasn't Quebec against the rest, but Quebec against Quebec in a dead heat. The Quebecers I've spoken to don't like status quo federalism. There's a huge group that won't vote for separatism but want something in the middle." With such things to consider as the Bank of Canada, the Supreme Court, the St. Lawrence Seaway, the military, the dollar and passports, she would urge Quebec "to think about it before they run away from home."

Grey feels that if the responsibility for language, culture, sports, housing and municipal affairs all went back to the provinces, "not just downloaded, but giving power with money to go with it," things might be better for all of the provinces including Quebec.

Questions from the floor dealt with the Canadian Wheat Board, which Grey feels shouldn't be dismantled but rather modified so "farmers should be able to get the best buck they can," the size of the government, which she feels could do with a "shakeup," and the status of Reform in eastern provinces.

She also commented on her appearances on This Hour Has 22 Minutes and Royal Canadian Air Farce — "I've made it into the big times."

the Elk Point Fire Department. The Town had approached the County of St. Paul regarding the idea, but the County is not interested. Without the County, the Town does not feel there is any point in installing the lights.

Town staff will have a five day weekend for Christmas. The Town office will be closed on Friday, December 27, and Town staff will receive a paid holiday.

Council also granted an early Christmas present to the Elk Point Curling Club who will receive a $500 grant toward their water bill.

Council approved a request to bring a person on staff under a Social Services work experience program at no cost to the Town.

A motion to reduce the size of Council to four councillors and a mayor was defeated. A decision on the size of the next Town Council must be made by January 1998.

Council opposed a request for consent of subdivision of land adjacent to the Town's sewage lagoon, although the Province has approved it.

They also turned down the concept of a merger with the FCSS departments of the Town and County of St. Paul.

National Child Day is November 20

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

In 1993, the Government of Canada designated November 20 as National Child Day to commemorate two historic United Nations events: the adoption of the Declaration of the Rights of the Child on November 20, 1959 and the CONVENTION OF THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD on November 20, 1989.

The CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD addresses the rights of children and youth under the age of 18. It recognized their basic human rights and gives them additional rights to protect them from harm. The Convention also recognizes the important role of the family in bringing up children.

In Canada, we owe the celebration of a special day for children to the efforts of OUR KIDS Foundation in Ottawa and RESULTS Canada. Their action was supported by individuals and community groups, including the CANADIAN COALITION FOR THE RIGHTS OF CHILDREN.

National Child Day is being celebrated across the country with special activities and events on November 20. In Elk Point, FCSS (Elk Point Family and Community Support Services) and EPCCS (Elk Point Child Care Services) — the Family Day Home Program) is sponsoring a poster coloring contest.

The picture they are to color is entitled "Each Child is Important." A winner from each grade level will receive a cuddly teddy bear.

National Child Day is a day to listen to children, to respect them, and marvel at all they have to offer. It's a day to rejoice at the special meaning that children bring to our lives... and the hope they inspire for the future.

National Child Day calls on all of us to reflect on the special needs of children and to think of ways we can improve their well-being. We can do this in our homes, in schools, in homes where 'baby sitting' occurs, and in various institutions in our community.

On November 20, let us acknowledge the numerous volunteers in our community who donate their time and energy to improve the quality of life for children. And — may each child in our community feel that they are "important."

November 20 is NATIONAL CHILD DAY, and as it can be said, "take on a Cuddly Day!"

Santa's Anonymous Campaign Underway

The Elk Point & District Lioness Club has started their Santa's Anonymous Campaign for 1996. Donations can be made and forwarded to The Elk Point and District Lioness Club, Box 432, Elk Point Alberta, T0A 1A0. Letters have been sent to many clubs, organizations, businesses and oilfield related companies and services. If you or anyone you know may be in need of assistance by this program, contact 724-4106. All name will be kept confidential.

We have a deadline date of December 18, 1996. Gifts that anyone donates must be new and unwrapped when placed in the collection boxes at various businesses in town (there will also be a food collection box at the Co-op). Keep them unwrapped so our volunteers can determine whether they are appropriate for a boy or girl and what age of child that gift is appropriate for. Any questions or concerns please call 724-4337.

Voters list will not be misused

The Editor:

I have enjoyed the opportunity over the past weeks to speak with Albertans to correct misconceptions about the Register of Electors. The Voters List and the Register of Voters will not be sold to telemarketers, pollsters, or others hoping to misuse the information. The Legislature has protected the information in the Register by providing for a $100,000 penalty and the possibility of one year in jail for anyone using Register information for anything other than electoral purposes. Administrative and electronic safeguards have been developed to ensure that this information remains confidential. Furthermore, the registered political parties of Alberta will follow standard principles and procedures to safeguard the Lists.

The Lists given to politicians serve the democratic process. Candidates use these Lists to communicate with voters in conducting their campaigns. The Lists given to the candidates only contain names, addresses and publicly listed telephone numbers obtained with the voter's consent. Dates of birth, gender (at this time, gender is on the Federal Lists) and residency data are strictly confidential and shall be used only by Elections Alberta to maintain the Lists and the Register. This data is not given to political parties or candidates.

Elections in Alberta are completed in four weeks - a very short period of time. Since telephones were invented, numbers from published directories have been added to the Lists by candidates. Today in Alberta, where the average electoral division has 30,000 voters, looking up telephone numbers is time consuming and costly. As political parties are funded by public donations which are eligible for tax dollar implications for every voter.

Voters Lists are also necessary administrative tool. We must know who is eligible to vote and where they are eligible to vote. The poll books are required by the Courts in the case of a recount or any allegations of voter fraud. Albertans must be assured that their voters are counted properly and that elections are free, fair and honest.

Taxpayers should be aware that the Register is being developed to save tax dollars. Creating and updating a permanent List for use by all levels of government for the conduct of elections will result in a huge savings by eliminating the duplication of efforts seen previously, where each jurisdiction enumerated separately. By eliminating enumerations, Canada expects to save $130,000 million in the next six general elections and Alberta will save $15 million over the next fifteen years.

Nor will confidentiality be sacrificed for fiscal gain. The Voters Lists will offer enhanced privacy, since Lists will no longer be accessible by the public. The voter is the only person with access to his or her records. Voters Lists will not be used by criminals to pursue innocent victims - this unlikely probability has been grossly exaggerated.

I trust the good common sense of Albertans. I trust Albertans will realize that the information maintained in the Register and on the Voters List is reasonable and will be treated with the respect and confidentiality it deserves. The sharing of information will result in savings to all of us and it was with that in mind that the Legislative Assembly of Alberta passed the amendments to the Election Act. I think it is a good law and trust Albertans will agree with me.

Derm Whelan,
Chief Electoral Officer

No thanks for pet dropper

Dear Editor:

To the irresponsible, cowardly cheapskate who had the nerve to drop off two half-grown kittens in the snowstorm Thursday:

First: IRRESPONSIBLE — You have a pet, you look after it, not expect someone else to do your job.

Second: COWARDLY — Not enough guts to come to the door and ask if we would like a cat or two.

Thirdly: CHEAPSKATE — A responsible pet owner takes their animals to the vet so there are no unwanted animals.

I sincerely hope that in your next life you come back as a cat and I can dump you without food or shelter and no concern for your well-being.

You'd better hope I don't ever find out who you are, because I will turn you in.

In case you are interested, there is no happy ending to this story.

Nutrition notes

Benefits of antioxidants

By Julia Painchaud

Dietician, Elk Point Health Centre

There is a lot of attention being directed to antioxidants and their benefit in the diet. The 3 most commonly discussed antioxidants are vitamin C, vitamin E and Beta Carotene. The reason antioxidants have been getting so much publicity is for their role in attacking free radicals. Free radicals are produced in our bodies as a result of normal functions. Free radicals have the potential to cause tissue damage that can lead to disease (ie cancer, heart disease) and aging. Antioxidants neutralize free radicals so that they cannot cause any damage.

To make sure you are getting enough antioxidants follow Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating. Canada's Food Guide emphasizes eating a variety of foods to help get all the nutrients your bodily needs. It also emphasizes eating vegetables and fruits, especially dark green and orange ones. Enjoy citrus fruits to get vitamin C and try to use more unsaturated type fats as they contain more vitamin E. There are antioxidant supplements available on the market but it is recommended that you try to meet your needs through a well balanced diet. A balanced diet provides many nutrients that are important for good health. Plus an isolated nutrient may not have the same beneficial effect in the body as it does when it is eaten in food. There are many other food components that researchers are discovering that have health benefits as well. These food components would be missed in a supplement. Data to confirm that intake of antioxidant supplements is beneficial is still inconclusive.

Operation Christmas Child flies again!

By Denise Smereka

OCC Coordinator 1996

Just like the snow and cold weather, the Spirit of Christmas visited the F. G. Miller High School early this year. This was the second year that the Crusader Santas have rallied together to deliver the gift of love to children in Third World countries around the world through Operation Christmas Child, a program run by Samaritan's Purse. This year, Canada was chosen to bring Christmas to the seven countries that make up Central America. These children have never experienced our snow and cold, but they will definitely experience the thoughtfulness and generosity of the Crusaders. The Crusader sleigh was overflowing and there will be 54 smiling faces on Christmas morning thanks to the generosity of the following Crusader Santas:

Kelly Tetz, Ms Smereka, Bronwyn Bilak, Shaun Moroziuk, Joann Gadwa, Nadia Wentworth, Justin Payne, Social Studies 9A and B students (some of which are listed below), Mr. Pidluzny, the Lindquist family, Jennifer Flanders, Lesley Andrews, Mr. Kiss, Judy Kim, Christine Penz, Donna Pinder, Bomee Lee, Ms. Dallaire, Frances Cardinal, Leanne Wilson, CALM class, Christa Lypka, Cory Rogers, Mrs. Pentek, Mrs. Gulayec, Romy Rohner, Miss Germain, Amanda Leaf, Stephanie Swedgan, Leslie Hillebrand, Megan Bergstrom, Amy Gildersleeve, the Demchuk family, Donnie Gadwa, Mary Easthope, Jaylene Purdy, the Purdy family, Ms Ziomek, Marci Bintz, Aileen Harper, Julie Bergstrom, Tanya Yopyk, Roberta Keichinger, Cristen Oszust, Dustin Sieben, Tori Warawa, Denise deMoissac, Tara Babenek, Kyle Saranchuk, Ken Myshaniuk, Jennifer Kalynchuk, Alyssa Fry, Brandon McMillan, Sheldon Nadeau, Tamara Rainboth, Cole May, Terina Nixon, Erica Nielsen, Jennifer Kadutski, Dennell Anderson, Rocky Pilisko and Michelle Hillebrand.

Community members who dropped off their boxes and donations were Brett Flanders, Shiela Thompson, Elaine Bjorkman.

The Crusader Santas, like the BIG RED GUY at the North Pole, had a whole lot of help from some special elves (Operation Christmas Child wouldn't have been the same without them). Thanks to Mr. O'Neill who went out of his way to bring the Hallmark boxes from Edmonton; Ms Dallaire and Elizabeth Harper who constructed the boxes when they arrived; Stedmans for donating some of their shoeboxes; Mrs. Gulayec and Mrs. Hovdestad at the front desk who handed boxes to the Crusaders; Kathy Kozina, Christina Dearden and Jaylene Purdy for helping to sort the boxes; Mr. Kryss, Nadia Wentworth, Rachel Peterson, Mrs. Brooker and Cathy Demchuk for moving boxes; Shaun Moroziuk, Shaun Cameron, Dennell Anderson and Rocky Pilisko for helping to load the boxes; all those who helped in small but important ways; and of course all the students who discovered that caring about another was the best feeling of all.

Finally, I would like to thank a very special Crusader Santa, Leslie Hillebrand, who not only brought in a big bag of goodies to help round out the boxes, but played a major role in the program's success by donating his time during his spares and dinner hours to help sort, tag, count, load and deliver the boxes to the bus depot. You are a shining example of the Crusading Spirit that keeps the Operation Christmas Child program a source of hope and joy in the eyes of the children of Central America. God bless you and all Crusaders!

SANTAS BY THE SLEIGHFUL! -- The students and staff of F. G. Miller High School once again collaborated to share the Christmas spirit with Third World children through Operation Christmas Child. A total of 54 boxes of gifts were packed up and sent on their way last week.

The Elk Point 4-H Multi Club is gearing up for another busy year. Farm Fair, CFR and the Imax Theatre are the first events planned for November 9. Shawna Wruth, Erin and Marci Bintz will lay a wreath on behalf of the club at the Remembrance Day ceremony.

The junior craft members are meeting at Florence's Country Crafts, Saturday, November 16 to make Christmas crafts. Their next meeting will be December 14 to make cookies and bird feeder ornaments. The senior girls are enthusiastically planning their projects for the year. Craft Project leaders are Gail Havener, Cheri Lindquist and Charlene Bintz.

On November 4th, Terry Holmgren, Alberta Agriculture Beef Specialist spoke to the beef project members about choosing animals and feed rations. Weigh day for the beef project is November 17th, 1:00 p.m. at Danyluk's farm. Steer Project leaders are Ken Ference and Chris Havener, Heifer Project leaders are Stewart Bintz and Tom Kurek.

There are six boys who would like to recruit a wood-working project leader. Call 724-4317 if interested.

Thirty three members registered at the October 23 meeting (24 steer projects, 12 heifer projects, 11 craft projects and 1 photography).

The club will be selling Watchable Wildlife Calendars and Spur-of-the-Moment western cartoon calendars at the F. G. Miller Craft and Book sale November 23.

Elections will be held at the next Multi Club meeting on November 27 in the F. G. Miller Home Ec room.

majestic roaming independence. The present-day bison industry, though only a decade old, is well-established, enthusiastic, and is poised for future expansion and growth.

The first annual Expo, weather-proof and indoors at St. Paul's new Ag.-Corral exhibition building, will feature a variety of events for newcomers to the breed, the interested public, and for established buffalo breeders.

One of those special events will be "An Introduction to Bison Production" seminar, Dec. 12 at 10:00 a.m. The seminar, led by bison breeders and industry representatives, will endeavor to "de-mystify" bison production, ranging from breeding and raising to managing and marketing.

Two other activities will bring the public "up-close" to the bison business. a services, supplies, and equipment trade show will run throughout the Expo. Also, an evening social on Dec. 11 will feature a "taste" of the industry with "Bison-on-a-Bun," courtesy of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

The highlight, though, as always, are the great Canadian buffalo. The animals will be on display on Thursday, Dec. 12, 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon. Bison breeders and the public will have a chance to view different types of animals, examine breeding programs, and discuss the industry with procedures in a casual atmosphere.

The buffalo viewing culminates at 12 noon, Dec. 12 when many of the animals will be via public auction. About 20 breeders from the three prairie provinces have already consigned some of their best bison for the sale. Sale manager and auctioneer Norm Moore expects the sale offering to be "second to none" on the fall and winter schedule. "We have pioneer breeders bringing select stock," he noted.

For bison buyers, trucking and short-term boarding arrangements are available, as is insurance. Sale-day sponsors include the St. Paul and Vermilion branches of the Toronto-Dominion Bank.

Long-distance visitors can book accommodations at the Woodland Inn or at the Lakeland, Galaxy, and King's motels—all located in St. Paul.

The Bison Expo '96 event is organized and hosted by a committee of northeastern Alberta bison breeders. These breeders are also gearing up to host the 1997 summer convention for the Southern Alberta Bison Association.

COME HELL OR HIGH WATER

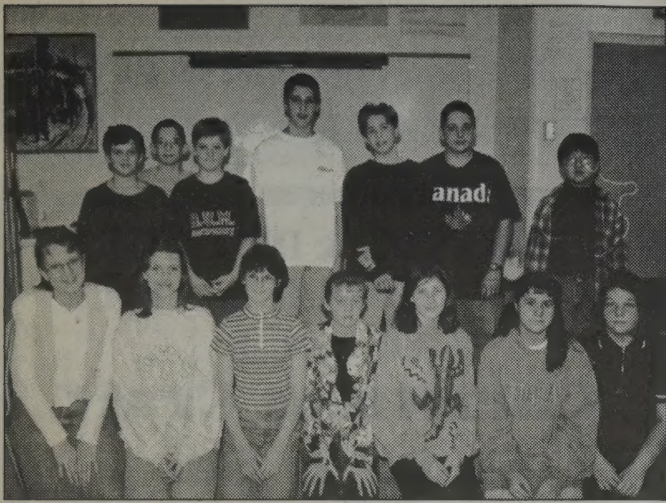

When you're prepared for anything, nothing surprises or stops you from getting the job done.

And when your job is delivering power to people who are trying to cope with a natural disaster, you better have a plan that works. Come hell or high water.

At Alberta Power responding to natural disasters is part of our everyday life.

Because it's tough to fight back without power.

Frog Lake School takes time to remember

By Matthew Powder
T.C. Quinney, Laura Smith

Levi Stanley, Kelly Stanley
Renee Dion, Dawn Stanley

Grade Six Class

On Thursday November 7, 1997, the students and teachers at Frog Lake School took time to Remember the Soldiers in a special Remembrance Day Ceremony. Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Jim Purdy. The grade two class opened the ceremony with the singing of O Canada. This was followed by grade one singing "Oh you can't go to heaven" and reciting The Lord's Prayer. A Cree Prayer led by the Grade three preceded the grade four recitation of the famous poem In Flanders Fields. Principle, Mr. Laverne Wilson, addressed the assembly on the importance of the Poppy Campaign and encouraged students to participate in the Remembrance Day posters, essays, and poetry competitions. Following Mr. Wilson's message, the grade five sang a special Remembrance Day song that was written by their teacher, Mr. Zimmerman. In honor of the soldiers, the grade six class lit candles and recited the poem "So We Could Be Free". Grade seven students Nicole Berland and Marie Stanley read their original poems on Freedom and Remembrance Day. Following a one minute silence to remember the soldiers, Mrs. Purdy read the poem "Do You Remember When?" by Sue Ellen Wade and the old favorite "Why wear a poppy?" by Don Crawford. The kindergarden class provided a parachute demonstration and the ceremony concluded with a honor song.

Joyce Larson and Marion Ryan coached the members of effective riding, methods and proper techniques. This was followed by pleasure games with our horses.

A meeting was held on November 5th at 7:00 p.m. in the Elk Point Jr/Sr High School with 22 members present. During the meeting record books and the upcoming Christmas party were discussed. A games committee was formed.

The next meeting will be on December 5 at 7:00 p.m. with a place to be announced later.

the next rides will be held on November 15th and November 30th at the Elk Point Riding Arena.

Highway 646 is county's second road priority

Repaving of Secondary Highway 646 east from Highway 41 to Riverview has been approved as the second priority for road work by the County of St. Paul. Base course on Secondary Highway 867 north to the County boundary is the first priority, while repaving of Secondary Highway 881 from Highway 28 to Myrnam Bridge is third on the list.

The County's Organizational Meeting saw Ray Danyluk returned as Reeve, while Frank Schwengler is Deputy Reeve.

What's news at the library?

Get on the waiting list for our new arrivals

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

Thanks go out to all those Friends of the Library who took time out from their long weekend to help at the bingo. Out take was just over $400 which is pretty good since we nearly outnumbered the players. Our next bingo is not until January 22, 1997.

The following just arrived at the library and all have waiting lists so if you haven't signed up for them you might want to:

Alphabet fans can rejoice now the Sue Grafton has come out with M is for Malice. Kinsey is hired to find the long missing son of a construction magnate.

An artist's peaceful life is shattered when a group of strangers surprise him at his home and leave him for dead in To the Hilt by Dick Francis.

John le Carre takes us to Panama and the life of Harry Pendel, tailor and perhaps spy in the Tailor of Panama.

The life of a young Japanese woman attending school in California has her life changed forever when the Japanese attack Pearl Harbor. in Silent Honor by Danielle Steel.

An early morning by a young couple sets the stage for a day during which everyone involved that the consequences of that innocent meeting are far more significant that the meeting itself in The Bonny Dawn by Catherine Cookson.

Other recent titles in adult fiction include:

Greg Hollingshead's collection of short stories, The Roaring Girl won the 1995 Governor General's Literary Award for fiction. (And he's Albertan) Check is out to see what kind of stuff Albertan writers are producing.

Although he died in 1944, Max Brand remains a very popular author of western stories. Two new titles, The Black Rider and Other Stories and The Ghost Wagon and Other Great Western Adventures are a collection of short stories and short novels that were originally published in magazines and have never before been published in book form.

In addition to his Star Wars trilogy and the Indiana Jones movies, George Lucas produced a popular fantasy movie called Willow. Now he and writer Chris Claremont have come out with a novel based on this movie. Titled Shadow Moon, the story picks up thirteen years after the battle of Nockmaar. Elora Danan has become a spoiled brat and it will take a stranger named Thorn Drumheller to save the day when malevolent forces threaten the world.

IN MEMORIAM

ZAROWNY, John C.

In loving memory of our Dad, Gido and Husband, who passed away November 14, 1982.

Never to be forgotten.

*In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay.
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peaceful, free from pain,
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.*

Sadly missed but always remembered. Love - Amelia, children and grandchildren.

Good weather on the way for Thunder and Storm this Sunday

By Doug Bassett

Elk Point Minor Hockey

After last week's game in Kitscoty the Thunder were given some choice words by coach George to "clean up the garbage" and that "the only way to beat teams is on the scoreboard." This seemed to work for part of the game on Saturday night when the Thunder boarded the bus and travelled to Wainwright to battle the Bisons. A very boring start saw no scoring in the first period and only one penalty for the Thunder. Things started happening in the second period as the Thunder and Bisons players locked horns and some minor scrimmages erupted. The Bisons took a two goal lead midway through the second but Shawn Waskewitch made it 2-1 just before the buzzer, when he was set up in front with a beautiful pass by team captain Marty Bendixen. Marty is not only a team leader but also a versatile player who plays as well on defense as forward.

Into the third period the Thunder tied the game when big #9 Loren Kozicky caught the corner with his nice long, low slap shot. Thunder, who now had momentum going their way, started playing very offensively, but got caught breaking out with no one back, and the Bisons capitalized and took the lead again, then scored again 6 seconds later. This really took the wind out of the Thunder's sail. The final in this one was 5-2 for the Bisons, giving the Thunder their second loss in league play. The Thunder was short two key players for this trip, and found the Sportex had very slow ice and dead boards. The Thunder are a fast team that will adapt their game plan to win on the road when the conditions are not as ideal as in the good old Thunderdome.

Sunday afternoon total silence fell over the Thunder dressing room as the boys' thoughts turned to the game at hand over the team from the east. Edam Three Stars were on the scoreboard 30 seconds into the start of the game and the Thunder were wondering if they were in for another night like the last two, but the tables turned when Ferlin Quinney scored on a power play, followed by Shaun Waskewitch, Keith Faithful and team captain Marty Bendixen to give the Thunder a 4-1 lead after one period.

Into the second period, the Thunder took the Three Stars too lightly and the game was soon tied at 4-4, but before the end of two, Loren Kozicky scored on a power play to give the Thunder the lead once more, making it 5-4 after 40 minutes. Keith Faithful, who returned to the Elk Point system after two years in St. Paul, scored his second goal of the game early in the third to give the Thunder some insurance. Edam answered with one more before the game ended. A well deserved victory for the Thunder who played a good, clean, entertaining game of hockey.

In other hockey news, Norm Quinney's team, the Atom Jr. Elks, with two wins this weekend, are 5 and 0 to start the season. Dave Cousins' Novice team had a big win over the Bonnyville boys, and the girls' Storm had goals by Megan Tucker and Kandice Bjornstad in a close game in Dewberry.

This week the Thunder hosts Turtleford Friday night, the team who finished the season in second place last year, and on Sunday, the girls' Storm play at 3 p.m., followed by the Thunder at 5 p.m. against Mannville. Be sure to come out and watch some good hockey.
